Helpful Tips for Purchasing Local Foods

Respect the farmer's home.

Many farm stands are on farm property and may be close by their home. Avoid wandering as there may be delicate crops, equipment, and animals nearby.

Be prepared with cash and change.

Many farm stands are cash only and use an honor system, meaning there may not be someone available to break larger bills.

Bring your own bags.

Bring your own bags and return any reusable packaging when possible.

Check the hours beforehand.

Contact the farm in advance if you're unsure of their location or hours. Especially on Sundays, as many farmstands are closed.

Shop earlier in the day.

Shop earlier in the day for fresher produce and more variety.

Always rinse your produce.

Always rinse your produce under running water, even before sampling.

ABOUT THIS GUIDE

This guide points you to the freshest and best tasting food — grown and produced by your neighbors. Shop at the locations listed in this guide and help keep your food dollars circulating in our local community.

The farms and businesses in this guide have assured us that they sell food they have raised themselves or food they have produced themselves using largely local ingredients.

In addition to their own food, these farms and businesses may also sell food that is not locally grown or produced. When shopping for local food, feel free to ask, "Did you grow this yourself?"

Good Reasons to Buy Food Locally

In season produce is often cheaper.

Eat more produce on average.

Fresher and longer lasting produce.

Get unique produce not available at grocery stores.

JEFFERSON COUNTY FARMERS MARKETS

Reasons to Shop at a Farmers Market

Farmers markets offer a wide diversity of affordable foods.

Many varieties of vegetables and fruits are simply not found anywhere but at your local farmers market.

Vegetables and fruits are the freshest at farmers markets.

They are harvested within hours of being offered to you. That is when they are at their peak for flavor and freshness, and full of vitamins and minerals that are important to keeping us healthy.

Farmers love to tell their story.

When you shop at a farmers market you have the opportunity to meet and visit with the farmers who grow your food. You can ask questions and learn about agriculture and how your food is grown and harvested.

Shopping at a farmers market is a family-friendly experience.

Support your local farming community by buying your food directly from a farmer. You are supporting a local economy when you spend your food dollars at a farmers market.

Support a more "green" environment.

The traditional meal, including meat and vegetables, travels anywhere from 1,500 - 2,400 miles to reach your plate. When you shop at a farmers market, your food comes from just a few miles away!

FOOD BENEFIT PROGRAMS

Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP):

SNAP/EBT is welcome at participating farmers markets to purchase as many $1 wooden tokens as you'd like. These tokens act as cash within the market.

Tokens may be used at any market booth that displays the "Food Stamp (EBT) Tokens Accepted Here" sign. Tokens may be used to purchase fruits and vegetables, seeds and plants that grow food, breads, meat, fish, eggs, poultry, eggs, dairy products, maple and honey products, wrapped and labeled baked goods, jams, sauces, and soups. They cannot be used to purchase alcohol, tobacco products, non-food items, food meant to be eaten on-site, hot foods, vitamins, or medicines. Unused tokens may be saved for the next time you shop the market; tokens do not expire. Unused tokens may also be exchanged at the token booth for a refund back onto your EBT/SNAP card. Tokens ARE market-specific and cannot be transferred between markets as each token is labeled with the particular market it was distributed from. Individual market vendors, farm stands, and mobile markets certified to accept EBT may also accept SNAP with an EBT card reader. Look for signage identifying that EBT cards are accepted at these locations.

Farmers Market Nutrition Program (FMNP):

FMNP provides checks to women, infants and children through the Women, Infants and Children Program (WIC) and to income-eligible seniors (60 years or older) through the Commodity Supplemental Food Program (CSFP) for the purchase of locally grown, fresh unprocessed, fruits and vegetables at farmers markets, roadside stands, and mobile markets that have been approved by the state agency to accept FMNP coupons. The program runs from June 1 - November 30.

WIC participants can call their local agency to have checks mailed or to arrange pick up. Here in Jefferson County, that number is 315-782-9222.

Seniors can pick up from the Office for the Aging at the Jefferson County Office Building at 175 Arsenal St. or call 315-785-3191 for more information.

FreshConnect (FCC):

The FCC program encourages recipients to use their Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP) benefits at participating farmers markets, farm stands, and mobile markets where SNAP eligible foods are sold. For every $5 in SNAP benefits a customer exchanges for wooden tokens, a $2 FreshConnect Check may be issued to be spent at the market on any SNAP eligible foods, increasing the purchasing power of SNAP consumers by 40 percent. This program runs all year, from January 1st to December 31st.

FreshConnect is also available to Veterans, service members, and their immediate family members. They can be picked up at the NYS Dev of Veterans Affairs office on Fort Drum and participating farmers markets.

CNY Health Bucks:

CNY Health Bucks provide emergency food program guests with the opportunity to purchase produce at their local farmers market while simultaneously supporting the local economy. The $2 coupons are distributed through food pantries, soup kitchens, and other anti-hunger organizations. Consumers who use SNAP benefits may also receive Health Bucks as an incentive when using electronic benefits (EBT) at participating farmers markets.

For more information, contact Food Bank of Central New York at 315-437-1899.

North Country Fruit & Vegetable Prescription Program:

This 6 week program provides $25 worth of vouchers weekly for fresh fruits and vegetables to individuals at risk of or diagnosed with a diet-related chronic disease and experiencing nutrition insecurity. The goal of this program is to help individuals learn new, healthy ways to eat more fruits and vegetables to address health concerns. Vouchers are redeemable at participating producers and retailers.

Ask your health care provider for more information on how to receive a referral.
